1. GENERAL INFORMATION

What is a "cookie"?

Websites, emails, online services, advertisements and interactive applications may use so-called cookies to optimise their services. Cookies are small text files that are downloaded to your computer or mobile device when you visit a website.

What do cookies contain?

Cookies usually contain the name of the server that sent the cookie, how long the cookie will be stored, and a value, which is usually a randomly generated unique number.

What do cookies do on boleron.eu?

Boleron EU (boleron.eu) is a European insurance knowledge base covering all 27 member states of the European Union. It is the European expansion of Boleron, an insurance broker licensed by Bulgaria's Financial Supervision Commission.

boleron.eu is an information service only. The prices shown on it are an informative tool, and insurance cannot be purchased through the website. For this reason, boleron.eu does not use cookies for shopping baskets, payments or customer accounts.

The cookies on boleron.eu help us understand, in aggregate, how the website is used, so that we can improve its content and structure. Cookies on their own do not allow you to be identified and cannot be used to establish your identity.

At present, boleron.eu uses only analytics cookies. They are described in Section 2 of this Policy.

2. COOKIES WE USE

Analytics cookies

We use analytics tools that help us understand how many people visit boleron.eu, how easily visitors find their way around the website and which content interests them. Analytics cookies show us, for example, which pages you have visited, whether you visited from a mobile or a desktop device, and how you moved through the website.

The information collected through these cookies is used solely for statistical purposes. It is not used to identify visitors, and we do not combine it with other information in order to identify you.

boleron.eu does not currently use any other type of cookie. If Boleron EU starts using other types of cookies, this Policy will be updated first.

Boleron EU also offers a REST API and MCP servers for AI agents. These services do not set browser cookies.

3. MANAGING COOKIES

You can choose to accept or refuse cookies from the websites you visit. Most browsers accept cookies automatically, but you can change your browser settings to block cookies or to alert you when a cookie is being set. You can also delete cookies that are already stored on your device at any time through your browser settings.

Analytics cookies on boleron.eu are provided by Google (Google Analytics) and are managed by Boleron. We cannot delete cookies that are already stored on your device, but you can do this yourself in your browser settings.

You can learn more about cookies at www.allaboutcookies.org.

You can find instructions on how to control cookies through your browser settings using the links below:

- Google Chrome
- Microsoft Edge
- Mozilla Firefox
- Opera
- Safari

4. CONSENT TO THE USE OF COOKIES

In line with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679 (GDPR) and the ePrivacy Directive (2002/58/EC), analytics cookies are set on your device only after you have given your consent through the cookie banner shown when you first visit boleron.eu. Until you give your consent, no analytics cookies are set.

You are free to accept or reject analytics cookies. If you reject them, you can still use boleron.eu and all of its content in full.

You can withdraw your consent at any time, as easily as you gave it, by changing your choice in the cookie settings on boleron.eu or by deleting the cookies in your browser as described in Section 3. Withdrawing your consent does not affect the lawfulness of any processing carried out before you withdrew it.

If you have any questions about this Policy or about how we use cookies, please contact us at office@boleron.com.
